ARTICLE 7. DEACONS

(B) The office of a deacon demands a high level of commitment, a mature knowledge of the faith, and dedication to fellowship and service. I Timothy 3:13 summarizes it best, "For those who have served well as Deacons obtain for themselves a high standing and great confidence in the faith that is in Christ Jesus." That high standing does not mean a qualification for promotion in the church. Rather, it is the ability to speak with boldness from a faith and a testimony grounded in loyal and humble service to Christ and to His bride, the church. That great confidence does not give one the right to look down on any man, but the ability, borne out of a Christ-centered life, to look anyone in the eye and tell of Christ's love in an appeal to their decision to trust Christ as you have trusted Him and live for Him.

As a deacon, you will study the Scriptures, pray without ceasing, serve the needy, and model your life after the life of Christ. To symbolize your acceptance of this call, you will answer the following charge

(D) Special committees may be appointed by the Church Council to perform some special task, secure more information, investigate a situation, and bring back a report or a recommendation to the Church or the Church Council. These shall be considered temporary committees whose term is completed when they have completed their mission, as determined by the Church Council. (E) Neither the designation of any such committee, the delegation thereto of authority, nor action by such committee pursuant to such authority shall alone constitute compliance by any member of the Church Council, not a member of the committee in question, with his/her responsibility to act in good faith, in a manner he/she reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the Church, and with such care as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances. (F) Each committee must have a majority of its membership composed of members of the Church. (G) A majority of the total number of committee members for each committee fixed by these By-Laws, or the Committee's respective charter, shall constitute a quorum for the conduct of committee business.
